Get involved

Youth employment can only be tackled if individuals and organisations work together to defeat it and empower the generation that it is holding back. This is why we are so keen to form strong associations with businesses and government organisations of all sizes in order to collaborate and find solutions to the problem together. We wish to network with organisations from all levels to identify new, tangible opportunities for young people and lead them into long and rewarding careers that allow them to make the most of their potential. We aim to engage with employers from various sectors to help them find new ways to find new talent to fill their positions.

If you feel you can help, please get in touch at the earliest opportunity. There are several ways that you can help us with the provision of our training programmes and workshops. These include...

- Fundraising for our projects
- Attending and assisting with our training, workshops and other events
- Offering your knowledge of the jobs market and your skills to help young people
- Identifying new ways to help us help today's young people move forward with their careers

Work-Experience programmes

If you're aged between 18 and 24, are struggling to find the employment and tired of being rejected by employer-after-employer, there is light at the end of the tunnel.

You can have a place in our work experience programme if you're:

About us

TESYouth is a not-for-profit, non-governmental organisation based North London. It is dedicated to offering high-quality training programmes, employment and social development for young people. It was launched to assist young people affected by unemployment to receive the support and advice that they need.

We wanted to use our experience and expertise to make a real difference to the lives of a generation

The only things that interest us are leading the young people of today out of unemployment and offering hope and guidance towards meaningful careers and financial stability.

Our mission is to use our many years of experience and vast expertise to assist young people in creating a better life by acquiring the skills needed to impress employers and enjoy a long, prosperous career. We aim to do this by offering a number of workshops and training opportunities that offer real, tangible benefits.

We help young people to find jobs or to start up their own business.

Our purpose is to help young people to realise their potential and develop existing skills as well as to learn new ones. Although there are many reasons for youth unemployment, we believe that offering the right training and advice to young people is an indispensable step when it comes to changing their fortunes for the better. We endeavour to help young people make sense of and compete in the fast-changing, rapidly-moving world they live in. We also aim to educate them about real opportunities that they may not have otherwise been aware of.

TESYouth would give young people hope, inspiration and creativity and enable them to realise their full potential and give them a positive future.
